

Dr. Edmund Devroey
Scientific Advisory Board Member

BOARD MEMBER PROFILE

Dr. Edmund Devroey received his Doctorate in Medicine in the field of Surgery and Obstetrics from the University of Louvain, Belgium. For more than thirty years, Dr. Devroey has practiced medicine in the field of Obstetrics, delivering more than 4,000 babies. He has also worked for the University of California San Diego in the department of Mineral Biochemistry.

Dr. Devroey's has authored many publications, including his most recent book, The American Diet: A Recipe for Disaster. This book outlines the health consequences of excesses and deficiencies within the American Diet and provides scientific arguments and suggestions for diet correction and supplementation.

Dr. Devroey's professional memberships include: Society of Certified Nutritionists, American Nutraceutical Association, and the European Academy for the quality of Life and Longevity.

Helping You Live Younger Longer!

